"It's always flattering to receive an award" says John Liptak, President & CEO, OakWood. "The real reward is knowing that our Team was able to listen to our clients and deliver an exceptional design" he adds.

Judging for the GOHBA awards competition takes place entirely in an online format, to ensure each project is judged individually by the GOHBA's respective judges. The online system allows for judges outside of the Ottawa region to ensure objectivity. The judging panel consists of respected Home Builder Association members and/or professionals from across Canada with experience and expertise in the industry.
